Privatimus Appoints Peter Wolfsdorf as Head of Executive Protection Training

Wolfsdorf is one of the most respected and renowned instructors in the field of Executive Protection in Germany.

HAMBURG, Germany (May 20, 2015) – Privatimus, a provider of security consultation, risk mitigation and protection for family offices, high net worth individuals \(HNWI\) and corporate clients announced today the appointment of Peter Wolfsdorf as Head of Executive Protection Training. Wolfsdorf, one of the most respected and renowned instructors in the field of executive protection in Germany, is now responsible for the entire range of executive protection training at Privatimus.

With extensive expertise from over 30 years within the security industry, law enforcement, and countless operational deployments, Wolfsdorf brings proven proficiency in executive protection in his role at Privatimus. Wolfsdorf also studied Educational Science, and served in the German military in diverse assignments (including Long Range Recon Troopers and Military Police), during which he was also delegated to official German special law enforcement.

At Privatimus, Wolfsdorf is responsible for the training of in-house executive protection agents (EP Agents), as well as the protection details and commandos of Privatimus clientele, and providing the latest state-of-the-art techniques and solutions at a national and international level.

*Peter Wolfsdorf,
Head of Executive
Protection Training
Privatimus GmbH*

Zeeshan Nasir, Partner of Privatimus comments: "We brought Peter Wolfsdorf on board because of his comprehensive experience in training concepts for EP agents, his excellent reputation as a qualified EP trainer, his extensive connections within the executive protection community in Germany, Austria and Switzerland, as well as his own specialized EP training facility and capabilities. He is an instrumental asset to the Privatimus team and our private and corporate clientele in providing the best possible training solutions in executive protection."
